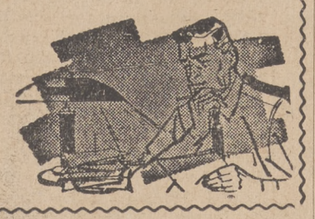
The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin



Smog Issue is Smokey

Will there be a replay of the Boston Tea Party (Dec. 16, 1773) this year in San Diego County in the form of oatstand "burn-ins"?

Soon after July 1 we'll know.

The unusually heavy winter rains have produced an abundance of wild oats — and they are drying. They will be tinder dry about the time the new county smog control burning act goes into effect on July 1.

Effective on that day there will be no more legal burning. Controlled burning is out. So is the burning of the little wad of weeds or trash that accumulates around the house.

The only fires that will be legal are barbecue fires and those in fireplaces although it seems that fireplace fires contribute as many pollutants as small trash-burning fires.

When burning becomes illegal, many property owners will let oat and weed fields mature and stand. A county-wide fire hazard will result.

Fire department personnel issue citations or warnings to remove noxious weeds and flammable growth from property. They are the community's fire-safety officers. They will not, however, issue citations for actions that are said to create smog. County anti-smog officers apparently will have that obligation. So far, no indication as to just what authority these officers will have, or who they are to be, has been given.

At least one authority on the subject has thrown a dash of cold water on the whole project. Fire Chief Frank Berger of the Spring Valley Department said pointedly: "No one has convinced me that grass fires contribute to causing smog. The chemical makeup is different. A family auto with its engine idling contributes more to smog than a backyard fire."

It is doubtful that firemen could enforce anti-smog laws even if requested. They'll be too busy this year putting out dry-oats fires because many people will not suffer the inconvenience of one of two alternatives they will have. Alternatives are cutting the vegetation and hauling it to the county dump, or burying it.

In anticipation of the growing need for dumping, the County government, a couple of years ago, invoked a use-fee for its sanitary fill facilities. The 25 cent - 75 cent charge was invoked about the same time that teeth were put into its anti-litter activities.

It didn't seem right to urge residents to keep the community clean and then impose a dumping charge when they cooperated, but they did it.

Neither does it seem proper to create fire hazards that could endanger entire communities without giving some relief either in dropping the dump charge or permitting controlled burning under the direction of a fireman.

While citizens appreciate the need for smog control, the approach is wrong. The burning a family does in year pours less smog producing pollutants in the atmosphere than one high-powered truck making one pass through the community.

But the truck lobby is a strong one and it will prevail. The average citizen does not have an organization so it is he who will be inconvenienced. The citizen who will carry the added expense of cutting, transporting and paying the fill fee.

With successive record county budgets and county tax bites, there should be enough slush in it to provide every resident with free weed removal and free dump service.

Higher taxes and more controls aren't exactly what county residents had in mind when they chose relaxed non-urban living.

Test Your Mental Health

The Intelligence Quotient of the public's knowledge of mental illness is tested in a pamphlet distributed this month by the San Diego Mental Health Association.

The test is not devised to entrap. Twenty simple questions comprise it. "Yes" answers should be given only to the last ten questions although we suspect that everyone would say "yes" to one of the first 10 at some time or another.

Test yourself:

1. Do you go into a dither over daily difficulties and minor

Property Here Re-Appraised

Most properties in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area have been re-appraised and notices of the new assessed values sent to property owners, E. C. Williams, County Assessor said this week.

"Most properties in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area have received minor adjustments for the 1969 lien date as a result of our ongoing aim at keeping pace with the current expanding real estate market in this area," Williams said.

"In addition to our maintenance program which is aimed at maintaining market level, we have appraised a great number of properties as a result of structure changes. In the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area these changes consist mostly of additions to existing residences and, according to my appraisers, a notable increase in the construction of duplexes," he added.

"Historically, Lemon Grove ranks in the top 4 or 5 communities in the county in yearly construction volume, he noted.

One aspect of building peculiar to this area is the great number of structures that are moved here from other locations. This is permissible since this is an unincorporated area.

Substantial increases in the industrially zoned properties on Broadway, from College west to the San Diego city line have been recorded, he said. "This area developed rapidly in the last few years to a point where specific appraisal was necessary".

Daley Ranch Tax Value Cut Nearly Two-Thirds

Market value of the 8,000-acre Jamul Rancho owned by Donald and Lawrence Daley is $1,000,000. In the last issue of this newspaper, it was erroneously reported that County assessor E. C. Williams had established $1,000 as the value on the basis of restricted agricultural use.

The property previously was valued at $2,902,700. That was before the owners were granted an agricultural preserve status by the County Board of Supervisors.

The Daley Ranch is one of only three "preserves" in the county. The others are in the north part of the county. They were formed late in 1968, just before former supervisors Robert Dent and Frank Gibson went off the board.

The reduction of $1,902,700 in the Daley ranch property value would reduce the property owner's tax obligation in the Jamul-Las Flores School District by $47,500.

The Daleys, however, have agreed to reimburse the elementary school district for whatever revenue it loses because of the preserve.

Grove Woman Imprisoned 1-14 Years

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Lemon Grove woman was ordered to state prison on Thursday by Superior Court Judge William A. Glen for one to 14 years to be served after she is released from a three year federal prison term.

She is Florence Lee Yturri, 30, who pleaded guilty to writing checks without sufficient funds.

She hit the Walker Scott College Grove store for $190, the Lemon Grove Food Basket for $154 with substantial amounts in other places during February.

She is in federal custody for using the mails to defraud in a scheme of presenting false health insurance claims. She got $37,000 this way, the probation report says.

The report says her career in forgery started in 1959 and she was placed on probation for five years.

High School Teachers Ask Raises, Changes

A 27-page document was presented to the Governing Board of the Grossmont Union High School District Monday night by the teachers' Negotiating Council.

It called for salary adjustments, personnel policy changes, and instructional improvements.

The Board indicated that several conferences would be required before action on the proposal can be taken.

Following the open meeting, the Board me with the superintedent is executive session, as provided in the Education Code, to instruct the superintendent on future negotiations on the teachers' proposal.

Wadie Deddeh's Bill Would Aid Schools Via State Property Tax

Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh has unveiled a major school finance bill that has the blessing of the California School Board Association. Deddeh explained that the bill is intended to (1) increase the state share of school support; (2) reduce local property taxes, and, (3) put a lid on future local tax raises.

"This school finance measure," Deddeh said, "represents a major reform in our method of financing public education."

Under the basic plan the state would collect a standard property tax across the board and then redistribute the funds to local districts. Seriously impoverished school districts such as Chula Vista, National City, Sweetwater, Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and San Diego would get back a larger share.

This Deddeh explained, would allow all schools to put on a quality education program without having to raise exorbitantly high tax rates.

Deddeh said that the state now supplies only about 14% of local school costs and he said even this percentage has been falling recently. He said the results of this low support have been seen in taxpayer revolts in local tax and bond elections as well as in the ill-fated "Watson Initiative" on last November's state ballot.

Deddeh's proposal is being amended into Assembly Bill 1678 and is co-sponsored by Senator Albert Rodda of Sacramento, chairman of the Senate Education Committee. Deddeh himself now serves as the chairman of the Assembly Committee on Public Employment and Retirement.

The details of the plan call for a state shared guarantee of $570.00 per pupil for elementary school districts, $826.00 per pupil for high school districts like Sweetwater Union, and $660.00 across the board for Unified Districts such as San Diego.

To support these guarantees a statewide property tax of $3.20 would be raised and then redistributed on the basic principle of a district's ability to raise funds. Local property tax rates would be reduced, although some wealthy school districts such as Beverly Hills and Palm Springs would have to maintain some local taxes in order to continue their exceptionally high-cost programs.

"The bill makes the state a full partner in school finance at realistic levels for the first time," Deddeh said. "And because of the tremendous equalization of resources," he added, "it is possible to keep that support up without bankrupting any property taxpayer."

Ceremony Friday To Start Construction of VA Hospital

The community of San Diego will participate in Official Groundbreaking Ceremonies for the new $34½-million, 811-bed VA Hospital which will be built adjacent to the University of California at San Diego. The time will be 11 a.m. on Memorial Day.

The new VA Hospital will incorporate radical structural concepts, that will provide for changing patterns of medical technology. It is the first hospital in the United States using the type of construction that will eleminate the need for columns which often provide obstacles in the use of floor space. New innovations are interior walls that are designed to be relocated and outer shell walls which allow for future enlargement and alterations.

"The new VA medical hospital and research center will have a definite impact on American medicine," according to Dr. Clifford Grobstein Dean of UC School of Medicine.

"Basic medical and applied medical research will be an important part of the hospital operation with VA's Department's activities and in close comment of Medicine and Surgery and the Medical Department of the University Medical School."

"Heart disease, arthritis metabolic disorders and diseases of old age will be emphasized at the new research center," according to Dr. Grobstein. There will be a renal dialysis unit (artificial kidney), the latest nuclear medicine treatment and research and a psychiatric section.

Approximately 1,500 employees will make up the staff for the new hospital which will serve the greater San Diego area which has an estimated veteran population in excess of 200,000.

The simple groundbreaking ceremonies will be marked by the attendance of congressional leaders: state, federal, civic dignataries; representatives of veterans and civic organizations, and the public at large. Parking will be provided and the ceremony will begin promptly at 11 a.m.

Swap Meet Controls On Way?

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Sellers at swap meets would have to give complete lists of what they are selling under a new county ordinance given the board of supervisors by County Counsel Bertram McLees.

Buyers would have to give the same information to the sheriff's department.

McLees said the ordinance is the one in effect in the city of San Diego.

The board wants to get the comments of Sheriff Joseph O'Connor and hold a conference before taking any action.

McLees said the San Diego ordinance would tend to discourage swap meets.

It would require sellers to give their names and addresses, date and time of entry to the meet, vehicle description and license number, if any, and a complete description of property brought into the trading area, including the color, name, make, serial numbers and other identifying marks.

The county counsel said the ordinance is a "strong" one.

Second district Supervisor Henry A. Boney said he favors a strong law.

District Takes First Look At First $3 Million Budget

The Lemon Grove Elementary School District Board of Trustees got its first look at the 1969-70 school budget Monday night — and gasped.

It was a record $3,154,714. Last year's was $2,831,482.

The preliminary budget covered a multitude of needs but where the money was to come from to cover it was in doubt. Usually some items are pared out during the several budget hearings.

Business manager Paul Reynolds said that the several sources of income are somewhat clouded.

It is not yet known what Legislature will do to the governor's budget — and that will affect the income of the district.

The outcome of the ceiling boost tax scheduled in Lemon Grove on June 17 will have a strong influence on the final budget.

Re-assessment in the district during the past year and changing assessment totals as construction continues, will also have an impact.

The federal aid picture is likewise unclear, Reynolds reported.

Superintedent Byron Netzley said that a realistic tabulation of the 1969-70 budget couldn't be made until some of the income factors become known.

One member seemed concerned about the trend of the District's financial needs.

"We need also concern ourselves about next year's finances as we study this year's budget," Board President Bert Cosby said.

Budget hearings will be conducted every two weeks until July 1 at the Education Center at Kempf and Lincoln.

"The Head Start Program is for children of low income families who will be entering kindergarten this September and it is designed to provide preschool experiences. Students will be served luncheon at the school and will take weekly field trips," said Louis Poluzzi, director of program.

The group heard Bud Harrington, manager of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce Transportation, Aviation and World Trade activities, tell that the overall retail auto sales and service industry was the top producer of sales in the state of 27%. In the East, food sales holds top position, he said. The auto industry in California accounts for $400 million in sales, he said.

Lord Of Life Lutheran Church Plans Retreat For Memorial Day Weekend

Lord of Life Lutheran Church, Apple st. and Luther dr. on Dictionary Hill in southern Spring Valley, is planning a Family Rereat for its members on Memorial Day weekend, May 30, 31, and June 1 at Indians Hills Christian Camp, Jamul.

Rev. R. D. Thoreson, pastor of Lord of Life, reports that most of the member families have signed up for the Retreat. Families will be using tents and trailers or the teepees available at the camp. "One family is even planning on using a bus," says Pastor Thoreson.

Special guest speaker for the Retreat will be Pastor William J. Hanson of La Habra, California. Pastor Hanson is the Regional Director of American Missions of the American Lutheran Church, with responsibility for the home mission program in six western states. He will speak at campfire devotionals each evening on the theme "Christ for Crises."

Also planned are Bible Study and discussion groups; an early morning hillside communion service; and an outdoor Sunday morning worship service. In addition, there will be plenty of outdoor recreation such as swimming, volleyball, etc.

Family Rereat is being called "Koinonia PowWow," according to Pastor Thoreson. The word Koinonia is a New Testament Greek word meaning fellowship.

"The emphasis of the Family Retreat is a strengthening of the fellowship both within the family among its own members; and also on a broader concept of the fellowship between families within the larger Christian family," says Pastor Thoreson.

During the season of Lent this past year, the congregation was involved in another unique family ministry.

A four foot cross, a replica of the large sanctuary cross in the church building, was passed from family to family each day with a special service of exchanging the cross participated in by the entire family. Each family kept the cross in their home for one day.

"We're planning on setting that same cross in the center of our camp at the Family Retreat," the pastor said.

This Sunday

Always and Everywhere

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is far more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

Have you heard about the Mexico Day Tour? Please tell us something about it in your column. When and where does it begin? What does one see while on the tour?

The Mexico Day Tour is a four-hour excursion which demonstrates the finest arts, crafts, and cultural aspects of Mexico. The tour is presented each Saturday and Sunday. It departs from the Border Parking Lot (The last lot on the U. S. side of Highway 5) at 11 a.m. and noon.

Tour members board a modern air-conditioned bus and proceed to the "Monumento del Aguila" (Eagle Monument). Their guide explains an Aztec legend about "El Aguila" and how it became the national emblem of Mexico. Tourists visit artisan shops where they see workmen fabricate beautiful guitars. Many viewers gaze in amazement as other workmen form molten glass into delicate decorative pieces.

Visitors see the finer areas and points of interest in Tijuana. Among these are "Playas de Tijuana" (Tijuana Beach) residential area with modern structures and fancy restaurants, cleanly kept streets, and inviting bathing facilities. Mariachis (strolling singers) enliven the day with a selection of folk music. The bull ring by the sea stands as a majestic circular structure towering over bronze statues of bulls and men.

Highlight of the tour for most spectators is the unusual architectural design found in the church of "Espiritu Santo" in the residential area of Chapultepec. Arched windows, indented and skillfully placed along the curved walls, reflect a multitude of colored lights as if in a diffused rainbow. The phrases that help you enjoy the trip are listed below. Practice them with the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762.

Renew Drivers' License Before Your Birthdate

Californians whose drivers' licenses will expire during the next five months can avoid an anticipated license renewal logjam by not waiting until their birthdays to renew their licenses.

Explaining the desirability of prompt action, Department of Motor Vehicles Director Verne Orr said:

"Regular California drivers' licenses used to be good for five years. But effective September 17, 1965, they were made renewable every four years. Therefore, beginning September 17, 1969, the first group of drivers with expiring four year licenses will have to renew and the last group of drivers with expiring five year licenses will be renewing at the same time.

During this year-long period of overlapping, if everybody came in exactly on his birthday when the renewal is due, DMV would be handling close to a double load of license renewals. We intend to do this with a minimum increase in staff."

Orr said that many motorists can escape the overlap period by renewing early. "The law permits anyone to renew his license up to six months ahead of his 'renewal birthday' and still have his new license dated four years from that birthday," he said. "Anyone, whether his license expires in four years or in five, can avoid congestion at the renewal counters by visiting a DMV office today," he added.

Any driver who renews his license more than 90 days late will automatically be given the road test in addition to the written and eye tests, and will be issued a license good for only three years.

A — If it has been more than 10 weeks since you filed your return and you have not received any information about it, write to the Internal Revenue Service Center where your return was filed. Give your name, address and social security number and the approximate date you sent in your return.

Q — What records should I keep on last year's taxes?

A — Keep the records and other information used to prepare the return. If your return is audited, your records will enable you to substantiate items listed on the return.

Q — I'm going to work this summer and will need a social security card. How do I get one?

A — Application for a social security number should be made on Form SS-5. This form is available at local Social Security and IRS offices. Return the completed application to your Social Security office and and they will assign you a number.

Q — I am planning to sell my house this summer. Is there anything besides the broker's fee I can deduct as a selling expense in figuring the gain?

A — Advertising and legal fees paid in connection with the sale can be deducted from the selling price in addition to the broker's fee and similar commissions.

Further information on this subject is contained in Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q — Where can I get more copies of the tax forms I need to deposit taxes withheld from employee wages? I can't find the forms I got this quarter.

A — Additional forms can be obtained by contacting your regional IRS Service Center. When you request the forms, give your name, address, employer identification number, type of tax, the tax period to which the deposits relate, and the number of form you need. Ask for FTD Form 501.

If these forms do not arrive before your next tax deposit is due, send your deposit direct to the IRS office where you file your return. Make your deposit payable to the Internal Revenue Service and be sure to give your name, address, and employer identification number, type of tax paid and period covered.

Booklet Should Guide Summer Travelers To Historic Landmarks

SACRAMENTO — The State Department of Parks and Recreation's best selling "California Historical Landmarks" booklet, which has sold more than 16,000 copies since it was published in 1967, has just been completely updated.

The 127-page publication, with its new, colorful cover and numerous photographs locates and describes the 827 mission, forts, ghost and mining towns, and other sites of historical interest throughout the state.

Landmark information is presented in numerical order by registration (marker) number, and is cross-indexed by county. Also listed are the many historic parks and monuments operated and maintained by the state. The booklet makes an excellent ready reference book and its handy, glove-compartment size makes it particularly useful as a travel guide.

The price is one dollar, which includes tax and postage. It can be purchased at many state parks and monuments, or by sending a check or money order to the Reservation Office, Department of Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento, California 95811.

'Turn-Over' Plagues L.G. Schools

One more teacher resignation, accepted by the Lemon Grove School Board at its Monday meeting this week, brought the total number of teachers resigned this calendar year to 17, the greatest number leaving the district in its history.

Byron Netzley, superintendent, told board members that the number of teachers resigned to date represents the most "turn-over" in personnel that the district has ever experienced.

Questioned by members as to the reasons for resignations, Netzley admitted that one-third of those leaving had stated that higher salaries offered elsewhere were attracting them to other posts.

Netzley further stated that schedules adopted or under consideration in other districts, including most in the Foothills area, were higher than any schedule Lemon Grove could offer under its present financial set-up. "In other words," he said, "Lemon Grove can no longer compete for the best professionals".

Recruitment to fill vacancies has not been too successful to date. If no salary adjustments can be made for next year, Lemon Grove must be satified to employ those who, in the majority of cases, applied elsewhere but were not accepted.

"Although the school tax electin is not aimed primarily at providing additional funds for salaries, those salaries are one of many factors that will determine the kind of educational program Lemon Grove can hope to offer elementary students next year and in the years to follow," the superintendent concluded.

Evidence Of Half-Mile Thick Sediment

Geologic Study Of Lake Tahoe Reveals Active, Submerged Faults

Discovery of bottom sediments at least half a mile thick and a series of active underwater faults in Lake Tahoe was reported last week by University of Southern California scientists.

In the first geological study of the huge California-Nevada resort lake using modern methods and equipment, the USC investigators found that the actual depression which holds the lake is more than twice as deep as previously realized.

Sediments were washed into Lake Tahoe during glacial times between 10,000 and about two million years ago when huge mountain glaciers emptied into it, according to Norman Hyne, USC doctoral candidate in geological sciences, who conducted the field work.

The sedimentary material, composed of sand, clay, silt, some volcanic ash, lies under 1,6000 feet of water. It extends "at least" half a mile down to the actual granite floor of the lake, Hyne said in an interview.

Hyne and USC oceanographic technician Glenn Rattman discovered two major sets of underwater faults in the lake.

One extends about five miles south from Stateline Point, the North Shore resort area. The other faults discovered are along the northern shore.

"The faults appear to be relatively recent in geological history and there are evidences of recent movement. At least one, and probably several, are active today," Hyne declared.

"There is a good probability that the Lake Tahoe area is subject to earthquakes due to the presence of the faults. I'm surprised to learn that none have been recorded there, although these may not have moved since man has lived in the area," he said.

The faults, Hyne said, appear to be associated with the Front Line Sierra Fault, which runs the length of the High Sierra.

Hyne said Stateline Point, where several resorts and casinos are located, is on a large fault, and estimates that the point itself was uplifted to its present elevation at least a quarter of a mile. The South side of the lake, where most of the casinos are located, is situated on an old glacial delta which filled in the lake, the USC scientist reported.

Hyne and Rattman also discovered a series of submarine canyons located off the west shore of the lake. These were caused, he believes, by a pattern of underwater currents.

The USC scientists said that the sounding device they used could penetrate only half a mile into the bottom sediments. They were unable to determine the exact depth to the lake's granite floor.

"It's possible that when we use a larger sounding device with greater capabilities we'll find that the sediments are considerably deeper than half a mile, which would mean that the lake depression is far deeper than previously believed," Hyne said.

Working under the supervision of Dr. Donn Gorsline, professor of geologiral sciences at USC, Hyne and Rattman are studying the contents of deep piston cores of the sediment which they collected. The results of the study are expected to unravel a number of mysteries of geological history of the area, including the age of the High Sierra, which were formed about the time Lake Tahoe came into existence.

Hyne and Rattman plan another research trip to Lake Tahoe at the end of May.

The USC researchers originally undertook the study of Lake Tahoe to attempt to answer questions about the Pleistocene Ice Ages' chronological record. They did not expect to discover the huge mass of underwater sediments.

Hyne said the only documented scientific exploration of Lake Tahoe was back in the 1920's, when the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey took soundings with a line and a lead weight to determine the lake's depth.

Hyne and Rattman were assisted in their field research at Lake Tahoe by Glenn Amundson, a local contractor, who supplied a barge and aided them in the engineering aspects necessary for the studies.

BOOK REVIEW

San Diego School Camps Is New Book Subject

"Classroom Out-of-Doors", by Dr. Wilbur Schramm, a professor at Stanford University, is an interesting 200-page study of San Diego's public camps.

Almost every parent with youngsters past the sixth grade will recognize events and places. Parents with children yet to reach the sixth grade will find it a good guide of what is to be when his child goes to one of San Diego's three public camps.

"Classroom" not only provides a rundown on a typical week enjoyed by most sixth graders in San Diego's schools each year, but it equates, rationally, these experiences to the delicate art of teaching — against the more obstinate art of learning.

Dr. Schramm, director of Instruction for Communications Research at Stanford, wrote the book under a grant from the W. K. Kellog Foundation. He spent a week with sixth graders at Camp Cuyamaca, Camp Marston, and Camp Palomar, dutifully reporting the problems and the successes of the camp programs. The reader, through the pen of Dr. Schramm, watches the youngsters' knowledge grow. The reader develops a respect and admiration for the San Diego City County Camping program — and for the personnel who give it life.

Dr. Schramm was in San Diego last week at an "author's tea" at which he repeated the theme his book carries.

"The San Diego program is truly a 'Classroom-Out-of-Doors' — a school away from school," he said. "This may surprise some, but not the parents of 250,000 youngsters who have shared in the program since 1946," he added.

Readers won't escape discerning the subtle educational development of the "campers" after only a week. And the reader senses that the ultimate in the year-in, year-out educational processes would be achieved if the teacher-student rapport at the beginning of each year was equal to that which exists between camper and counsellor at the end of a week of San Diego's classroom out of doors. President, Lillian Duncan; first veep, Reta Hulatt; second veep, Jan Beyer; third veep, Dorothy Harless; fourth veep, Barbara Hughes; fifth veep, Thelma Ltwis; secretary, Lou Magill; corresponding secretary, Thelma Puterbaugh; treasurer, Agnes Watkins; parliamentarian, Tommy Thomas; and Junior past president, Doris Howell.

An impressive installation ceremony was presented by long-time member Louis Caldwell, with each new member receiving a "hat" relative to his (or her) office.

New term begins in July but the next regular meeting will not be until Sept. 20.

S.V. Welfare awarded two $150 scholarships at the meeting, to two high school students: Fran Wilkenson, a senior at Mt. Miguel High, was awarded a scholarship from the Jessica Higbie (Memorial) Medical Arts Scholarship program. She has been a varsity cheerleader and plans to become a nurse; Pete Goossen, a senior at Monte Vista High was awarded a scholarship from the Grace Golden (Memorial) Liberal Arts Scholarship.

He has been a member of the school's football team, a member of the International Club and works in the school library.

He has been accepted for study at San Diego State College and will major in engineering.

Goossen plans to teach in a high school or junior college.

A check for $50 was made for a Girl Scout to receive an annual "Campership" award, but the name of the girl was not known at the time of the meeting.

Year-round programs of recreation and outdoor activities by United Crusade supported San Diego city and county Camp Fire Girls will enroll more than 9,000 this year.

Rules For Cars Carrying Long Objects

With the arrival of warm weather, many householders discover that the family car or station wagon will have to do emergency duty — hauling trash to the dump or delivering equipment for home improvement projects to the garden and garage.

And, in the process of attaching the unwieldy materials onto the family bus, the householder discovers he doesn't know the rules.

The Acting Commander of the San Diego Area office of the California Highway Patrol this week explained some of the requirements for hauling.

"Nothing can extend beyond the line of the fenders of the vehicle's left side and more than six inches beyond the fenders on its right side, or in the back beyond the last support point more than a distance equal to two-thirds the length of the wheelbase.

"In other words, a carpet or other long object cannot stick out a window on the left side, and is limited to six inches outside the car on the right side. Also, if the load that extends beyond the back of the car exceeds four feet a red flag or cloth at least 16 inches square must be displayed at the extreme end. At night, two red lights of at least six candlepower, visible for 500 feet, must be attached to the end of the protruding load."

Pat Grace Mechanic Wins Citation For Community Service

Arthur Albright, 45, a mechanic at Pat Grace Ford in Lemon Grove, was presented the Community Services award last week by the Ford Motor Company at a banquet at the Rueben E. Lee restaurant in Mission Bay.

Albright, who lives at 542 Broadway, Spring Valley, has been a mechanic with Grace Ford for four years.

He was cited for his service in the Civil Air Patrol during the four years he has been associated with Grace.

As a commander of a CAP squadron at Gillespie Field, El Cajon, he has spent more than 50 hours on search and rescue missions during the past 12 months. He is an instructor in the CAP cadet program and conducted search missions co-ordinating schools throughout the state.

He became a grandfather December 31.

Albright's award was presented to him at the banquet by San Diego City Councilman Allen Hitch.

Grossmont HS Area Faces Budget Boost Of $1,200,000

At its regular meeting May 19, the Governing Board of the Grossmont Union High School District received a budget presentation in the total amount of $15,585,564 for school year 1969-70.

Expenditures carried in this budget merely reflected present ongoing program but did not include increases in services, in curriculum, or salaries for employees. Notwithstanding, the increase in dollars over the 1968-69 budget amounted to approximately $1,200,000.

This is an 8% increase which accounts for cost of inflation and the additional expense in providing for approximately 800 increase in student population. The need of the District to receive additional state funds, if critical additions to program and services and a reasonable salary increase are to be accomplished, is clearly evident.

In the other action the Governing Board received a salary presentation from the classified employees requesting a 4.7% cost of living increase and a 2.3% salary adjustment; approved the reclassification of C. R. Hoberg, principal of Continuation High School, to director of Continuation Education; authorized reclassification of Richard Smith, chief of data processing, to assistant director of data processing.

The Governing Board also strengthened the ROTC programs at Granite Hills and Mt. Miguel High Schools by approving the addition of a non-commissioned officer to each program; adopted a resolution to support the annexation of Dulzura School District to Jamul-Las Flores Union School District.

Attorney Gen Lynch Asks Backing Of Crime Control, Safe Streets Act

State Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch has urged support for a proposed $300 million appropriation to finance the nationwide program of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act during the next fiscal year.

In remarks prepared for the Conference on Criminal Justice Planning for Southern California he suggested delegates "write to congressmen" to request approval of the budget measure now pending before federal lawmakers in Washington, D.C.

The all-day conference, held May 22 at the Airport Marina Hotel in Los Angeles, was co-sponsored by the California Council on Criminal Justice and its Region X advisory board in co-operation with the Southern California Association of Governments.

Lynch serves as chairman of the 25-member Council which was designated last year as the State's official agency for administering funds under the Safe Street Act.

"We took a major step forward during the first quarter of this year with completion of California's comprehensive plan — the first in the nation to be forwarded to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in Washington," the Attorney General said.

He stated lawmakers at every level of government have "sensed the need for positive programs of action" to curb crime and civil disorders.

Richard W. Velde, associate administrator of the LEAA in Washington, told conference delegates that California will play a major role in the nation's crime control program.

"We look to you for the unique and creative projects that will serve as prototypes for excellence in future planning," he said in a luncheon address.

Velde explained the LEAA budget now pending on Capitol Hill would boost "action grants" to the States to $259 million during 1969-70, as compared with $29 million during the current year.

Based on this budget, California would receive $1,767,750 in planning funds, and $18,255,192 for action grants over the next fiscal year.

Velde stated the grants, to be closely co-ordinated with State planning agencies, would be used for a wide variety of projects, ranging from police recruiting to control of organized crime.

"For the first time in history, federal, State and local governments are launching a national campaign to control crime. Our mission is as vast and as complex as crime itself. We must prevent crime, control and reduce it. We must take the offensive and build defenses by improving police, courts and corrections," he said.

California Highway Patrol Announces New Requirements For Tread Depth

Safety regulations relating to the tread depth on tires used on public carrier buses and trucks will become effective on an emergency basis May 22, rather than later this year as originally scheduled by the California Highway Patrol, Commissioner H. W. Sullivan announced.

The Highway Patrol took the emergency action at the request of Senator Walter W. Stiern and Assemblyman William M. Ketchum, both of Bakersfield.

The legislators requested that the new regulations become immediately effective following a tragic charter bus went out of control, skidded across the divider strip, and went over a bank, killing three Girl Scouts and injuring 20.

The new regulations prohibit use of a tire with a tread depth of less than 1/16 inch measured at any point on the tire on any bus wheel or on the front wheel of any truck subject to Motor Carrier Safety Regulations.

The previous prohibition against tires "which do not have clearly defined tread configuration" applied only to the front wheels of both buses and trucks.

The new regulations also prohibit the use of regrooved tires on the front wheels of regulated buses and trucks, except that certain tires designed for regrooving may be used on the front axles of vehicles used exclusively in urban and suburban areas.

The prohibition against use of recapped or retreaded tires on the front wheels of buses, which was contained in the old regulations, is extended in the revision to apply to regulated trucks as well.

Tire regulations as adopted were developed during the past six months as part of a general revision of the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations contained in the California Administrative Code.

Proposed revisions, including the emergency tire regulations, were reviewed by the Highway Patrol's Advisory Committee on Motor Carrier Regulations, which includes representatives of the Highway Carriers Association, the California Bus Association, truckers, teamsters, the California Association of Publicly Owned Transit Systems, agricultural organizations, contractors, and others in the industry.

HARDY G. KUYKENDALL

Kuykendall To Retire

A reception for Hardy G. Kuykendall, Jr., who leaves the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education June 30, is set June 4, 7 to 9 p.m., at the Education Center.

The public is invited.

Kuykendall, an insurance company district manager, was elected to the Board in 1965. He served as vice president for the year 1966-67 and as president the past two years.

Event is sponsored by the district's four employee associations: La Mesa-Spring Valley Teachers Association; La Mesa-Spring Valley Association, Unit 419; and La Mesa-Spring Valley Administrators Association.

Dr. Glenn Marks, chairman of the planning committee, said staff members wish to express their appreciation to Kuykendall for outstanding service during a critical period for education.

Kuykendall has been with the Sierra Mutual Fire Insurance Company in an executive capacity for 20 years. He served as executive secretary of the California Association of Mutual Insurance Companies from 1960-68 and was a member of the Board of Directors of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies for a six-year term, ended in July 1968.

Educated in the public schools of California, he graduated from Hoover High in San Diego. He received his B.A. degree in economics and finance at Occidental College. He also studied at San Diego State and Purdue University.

Kuykendall served in the Marine Corps with duty in the Central and South Pacific during World War II and in the Far East during the Korean conflict.

He has been active in the First United Church of La Mesa and the San Diego district of the Methodist Church. He is a past president of the Kiwanis Club of La Mesa and received the club's "Man of the Year" award in 1968.

Kuykendall has also been active in community projects, the PTA, Boy Scouts, YMCA, and Chamber of Commerce. He was co-chairman in the successful 1964 La Mesa-Spring Valley bond and state aid election.

Record Institution Of Veterans Posts

What is believed to be a record institution of veteran's posts will occur Sunday in El Cajon when two Catholic War Veterans' posts and an auxiliary will be brought iato being at the Veterans Memorial building, 136 Chambers st.

National Commander L. E. "Bob" Shugrue of Chicago will officiate.

Organizations of all faiths are invited to attend the 1:30 p.m. ceremony.

Importance of the institution was cited by the Catholic War Veterans organization of San Diego because 45% of all servicemen and women were Catholics it said.

U.S. has slightly more than 13 million dairy cows on farms, as compared to over 18 million a decade earlier. Despite the drop in cow numbers, milk production in 1968 remained stable.

Danger Signs Go Up For S.D. Mussels

Mussels along the entire California coastline are again under the annual state quarantine, the San Diego County Department of Public Health announced. The quarantine is in effect now through October 31, because the mussels may be poisonous and unfit for human consumption.

"This is the season of the familiar 'red tide,' when the ocean and bays are full of Gonyaulax catanella, a tiny marine organism similar to plankton," said Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health.

"Mussels feed on this organism, which makes them very toxic," Dr. Askew explained. He said the mussels can be fatal to any person eating them. He cautioned that clams, too, are affected by the poison.

"Clams eat this same organism but the poison collects in the dark meat. You should wash clams very carefully and discard all the dark meat before eating. Only the white meat is safe," Dr. Askew said.

Dr. Askew said the health department would post signs along the county's beaches, from the Mexican border to San Onofre, warning people not to take mussels for any use except fish bait.

During warm weather the organisms multiply by the billions in shallow coastal waters. The organism looks orange-brown. When it is present in large numbers it gives the sea a reddish cast by day and a luminescence by night.

Nearly 50,000 persons in all parts of San Diego County will be touched by the compassion of the United Crusade supported Salvation Army programs during 1969.

Nearly half of the nation's population is comprised of veterans and their dependents.

CLASSIFIED SCHOOL EMPLOYEES — Efficient employees at San Miguel School Cafeteria help keep lines of hungry students moving. Mrs. Stina De Gaetano of Lemon Grove literally has her hands full preparing tostados for a lunch last week.
Mrs. Berna Williams (working in background) is cafeteria manager at the school. She explained that employees are taught to use both hands at the same time as one step in speeding service for 300 students a day in what she calls "the biggest restaurant in the world."
Mrs. Williams has helped things run smoothly at the cafeteria for 13 years — she has been in the Lemon Grove School District 15 years.

Lemon Grove Schools Mark Classified Employees Week

This is Classified Schol Employees Week in Lemon Grove. Classified employees are the non-teaching employees who take care of the vital services needed so that teachers may teach and, pupils may learn.

There are more than 100,000 such employees in the state in about 1,200 school districts.

In Lemon Grove the teaching staff is supported by 58 regular classified employees, 74 part-time workers and 26 substitutes.

Mrs. Ruth Pfister, as supervisor of the School Food Service program in the L.G. District, has served as state president of the School Food Service Assn., and is the current president of the Lemon Grove School District Classified Employees Association. Mrs. Pfister and her staff concern themselves with the preparation and serving of an attractive and nutritionally sound Type A lunch, with milk, at a low cost to the student while providing well over 1/3 of their daily food requirements.

W. L. Bartholomew, George Dickinson, and Gerald Heath direct programs relating to the maintenance of our school buildings, grounds, and the transportation system. As might be expected in a modern day school system a strong emphasis is placed upon safety first measures whether it be in the operation of school buses or boilers and heating system.

Mrs. Rita Russell, Secretary to the District Superintendent, assists with the training and provides much of the direction for the school secretaries and office employees of the school district.

'Non-Athletes' At Helix High Get 700 Hours Of Physical Training

MIKE GILMARTIN

Helix High School does not only train athletes for varsity teams, but provides an opportunity for physical development for non-athletes as well.

There are four classes of boy's physical education: a class for students in need of special instruction in physical fitness; a ninth and tenth grade class; a tenth and eleventh grade class; and an eleventh and twelfth grade class.

Classes begin in September with two weeks of testing in strength, endurance, speed, agility, and basic skills. They are used to determine each student's capabilities. When this is done, each boy is placed in a class with students of similar capabilities.

As soon as testing is completed, students begin the regular program. This program will expose the average student to about twelve different sports. Weight-training, wrestling, handball, tennis, track, gymnastics and soccer are among the sports taught.

Each year is divided into six units during which students learn about different sports. The basic skills of the sport are learned in the first few weeks. In the last few weeks of each unit, team competition is used to help the students apply what they have learned.

For example, in a basketball unit, the first three weeks are devoted to shooting, dribbling, passing and basic rules of the sport. The rest of the unit goes into team competition.

A test that is particularly effective is the Marine Corps physica lfitness test. During a two-hour period, five tests are given, one right after the other. Each test is worth a possible 100 points and the tests consist of situps, pushups, pullups, shuttle run and broad jump. Of the total score of 500 points, over 400 is excellent, while over 300 points is good to average.

Recently a team of Highlanders won first plaie in the Southern California physical fitness competition and third in the western division competition. They were chosen from the regular physical education classes.

"We believe our program works because of the winning record of our teams." said Coach William White, Boy's Physical Education Dept. Head.

All of this comes to more than 700 hours of physical education that each high school student receives before he graduates.

University of California extension dairy specialists said farmers who wish to remain in dairying in California must use every available management tool to increase their efficiency and to meet competition.

The Bene

Provinzano Paces Matadors in CIF

BY JOHN NICHOLSON

Mount Miguel's track and field team, led by hurdler Randy Provinzano, took five positions for the San Diego County CIF finals.

Provinzano, a senior, grabbed second place in the 120-yard high hurdles, a tenth of a second behind Lincoln's Marion Franklin, who is considered the best in the county. In the process, Randy lowered the school record to 14.5 seconds for the event.

The Matador speedster, coming on strong the last few weeks, was gaining on the Franklin Flash and may have caught him had there been another hurdle, according to some who saw the action.

Provinzano came back later in the meet to qualify in another event — the 180-yard lows. He finished fourth in that event to advance to the finals.

In other CIF preliminary action, Billy Joe Winchester and Steve Daugherty made the cutoff in the shot put.

Winchester, who led all qualifiers, flipped the lead ball 58 feet 2½ inches, while Dougherty's effort was just over 56 feet.

Dougherty has thrown over 60 feet three times this season. Winchester has hit over 62 feet and is consistently over 60 feet.

Ripley took third place in the affair, 0.6 seconds off the winning time, and just a few feet off the winner.

In the discus, which is not a regular event in the CIF meets, Mount Miguel placed three positions, including Winchester, Dougherty, and Larry Schaufler.

Terry Lewis In Contest To Serve Van Deerlin

Terry Lewis, a junior at Mt. Miguel High School, has been named one of ten semi-finalists in a contest to select two boys and two girls for a trip to Washington, D.C. to work with Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin in his office this summer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lewis, of 921 Parkbrook, Spring Valley.

He plays junior varsity basketball and football and is the vice president elect of Associated Student Body for next year.

The finalists, who are high school juniors in the 37th Congressional District, will be selected on the basis of general scholastic aptitude, leadership qualities as exemplified in school and community activities and the student's personal character.

Other candidates invited to attend the finalist judging luncheon at noon May 29 at the Bali Hai Restaurant include Misses Mary Jane Link, Chula Vista High School; Cynthia S. Rodriguez, Borrego Springs High; Cheryl Blount, Crawford High; Carol Smith, Our Lady of Peace Academy; and Dianna Toliver, Lincoln High.

Also named as semi-finalists are Ronald Cline, Morse High; Robert S. Emerson, Sweetwater High; Gunars Valkirs, Helix High; and David M. Hirsch, Chula Vista High.

Judging the contest for the fourth year will be Dr. Herbert F. York, former chancellor of the University of California at San Diego; Mrs. William C. Rust, wife of the president of California Western University; and Mrs. Robert M. Kercheval, whose husband is the former Chief of Staff to the Commandant, 11th Naval District.

"The purpose of the trip is to bring young San Diegans to a better understanding of the federal governent and to learn from a practical standpoint the applied methods of its operation," said Van Deerlin.

The two-week long "on site seminar" in Americanism in action will also include tours of the White House, Capitol Hill, the State Department, Supreme Court Building, Smithsonian Institute and other top governmental agencies and historic shrines.

Aztec Football Mentor, Don Coryell Will Help Coach West All-Stars

By JOHN BRITTON

San Diego State football coach Don Coryell has been selected as one of the assistant coaches on the West squad for the Coaches All-American game June 28 in Atlanta, Georgia.

Pepper Rodgers of the University of Kansas has been named head coach for the West squad. John McKay of the University of Southern California was also selected as an assistant to Rodgers.

Joe Paterno of Penn State will pilot the East squad. His assistants are Vince Dooley of the University of Georgia and James Root of New Hampshire University.

The Coaches All American game is the second post season all-star game this year that Coryell was selected to coach in. Coryell served as an assistant on the West squad in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

"I feel very flattered and honored to have the opportunity to coach in this game," said Coryell.

Coryell has led the Aztecs to an 68-11-2 record since becoming head coach in 1961. In the last three years Coryell's Aztecs have lost only one game and have been ranked number one in college division football.

Lake Sutherland Now Is Open For Fishermen

Lake Sutherland, located six miles northeast of Ramona off Highway 78, will be open on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays into September, the San Diego Recreation Department has announced.

The area, noted as one of the finest bluegill-bass summer sport fisheries in Southern California, has a scenic picnic area overlooking the lake and overnight camping at the U. S. Forest Service's Black Canyon Campground two miles away.

Forty new fiberglass boats will be available at the concession stand. Boat reservations are made by calling 460-2944.

First opened in 1955, Lake Sutherland has been fished every year since then for bass. Bluegill were stocked in 1957 and early this year channel catfish were added for the first time. The latter may not figure much in the catch before next year.

Opening of Sutherland now gives the San Diego Lakes Recreation program five areas for late spring and summer fishing. Others are Miramar, Murray, El Capitan and Lower Otay. All are open on weekends.

Miramar also operates Tuesdays, Murray and Otay on Wednesdays and El Capitan on Thursdays.

Chargers Open September 14

What can they do for an encore?

The question was posed after the San Diego Chargers scheduled the Baltimore Colts, New Orleans Saints, Oakland Raiders, Cleveland Browns and Los Anegeles Rams for successive Saturday night preseason games at San Diego Stadium in August.

The answer came this week when the American Football League released its 1969 schedule.

It shows the powerhouse Kansas City Chiefs and Super Bowl champion New York Jets with dates at San Diego Stadium in September. The encore was appropriate for San Diego's "Super-200" anniversary celebration.

The Chargers will open the AFL season against the Chiefs on Sunday, Sept. 14. After a trip to Cincinnati to play the Bengals on Sept. 21, they return home to face Joe Nameth and the Jets on Sunday, Sept. 28.

Cincinnati follows New York into San Diego Stadium on Saturday night, Oct. 4, for the only home night game on the Charger league schedule.

Other highlights of the Chargers' 14-game schedule are San Diego Stadium dates against the Western Division champion Oakland Raiders and their new coach, John Madden, on Oct. 26, and a season's finale against O. J. Simpsoin, Haven Moses and the Buffalo Bills on Dec. 14.

The Boston Patriots will invade San Diego on Dec. 7 and are the only Eastern Division team the Chargers will play twice.

S.V. Woman Must Repay Welfare $1,436

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Mrs. Catherine La Monica Ridgewell, 51, 10707 Jamacha rd., Spring Valley, was ordered to pay $1,436 in restitution to the county welfare department by Superior Court Judge William P. Mahedy.

Mrs. Ridgewell was also placed on probation for five years after pleading no contest to grand theft.

According to the probation report, she accepted aid to families with dependent children for at least two years while living with Donald Ridgewell at 930 El Kelton, Spring Valley.

The couple married in September of 1967 after the welfare case was closed when Mrs. Ridgewell went to work.

The probation report says that the overpayment amounted to almost $5,600, but that the plea of nolo contendere covered only a period of the time.

Commercial OK'd By Planning Dept. For Elkelton Land

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County planning commissioners have tentatively approved a zone reclassification in La Presa against the recommendation of the staff.

The rezone is for 1.75 acres on the west side of Elkelton blvd. at Jamacha rd. The present zoning is residential-professional (R-P) and the requested change is to light commercial (C).

Tom Duffner, representing applicant Leon Dichter, was able to convince the commission that there was no demand for R-P land at the location.

The staff's position was that there is already sufficient C zoning in the vicinity and that the R-P zone created a buffer between an already-established but unused C zone to the east and residences to the west in the same block.

The commission decision will not be final until extra right of way along Elkelton is granted to the county. All final zoning decisions are made by the county board of supervisors.

In another action, the commission granted Paul B. Kucia a special use permit to increase the use of his day care nursery school to 40 children (from 20) at 608 Kempton st. and 9148 Jamacha blvd.

Rezone Rejected For La Presa Land

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A rezone of land locate within a future La Presa freeway interchange was denied on Monday by the county board of supervisors.

The 3.9 acres of land owned by Emmett J. Manion is just east of the South Bay Freeway and north of Leigh avenue.

Manion had asked for a rezone from E-1 to R-1-A which would have reduced the minimum lot size from one acre to 6,000 square feet.

State division of highways engineer Jacob Dekema said the land will be needed for a three freeway intersection at an unknown time in the future.

Laker Star Jerry West Wins Sport Magazine NBA Playoff Award

Superstar Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers has been named winner of the first annual "SPORT Magazine NBA Playoff Award" as the outstanding player in the championship series between the Lakers and the Boston Celtics. The award, a 1969 Dodge Charger R/T, was presented at a luncheon in West's honor last Thursday at Mamma Leone's Restaurant in New York City.

West, who led both teams in scoring with a 37.9 average and in assists with 7.5 per game, captured the award despite the fact that the Celtics won the best-of-seven series, four games to three.

The "SPORT Magazine NBA Playoff Award," presented for the first time in this series, becomes the companion award to the "SPORT Magazine World Series Sportscar Award," established in 1955, and the "SPORT Magazine Pro Football Championship Sportscar Award," instituted by the magazine in 1958. Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers won the last World Series Award and Joe Namath of the New York Jets was SPORT's Super Bowl winner.

In the NBA series opener, Jerry poured in 53 points to get the Lakers off winging, 120-118. And in the second game, West hit the cords for 41 points in leading L.A.'s 118-112 triumph for a 2-0 series lead.

When the series resumed in Boston, the Los Angeles backcourt ace tallied "just" 24 as the Celtics scored their initial win, 111-105. In the second game in the Hub, Jerry added 40 more points, including a jumper with 20 seconds remaining to give the Lakers an 88-87 lead, but Sam Jones' last gasp jumper gave the Celts an 89-88 win at the final buzzer.

Back in Los Angeles, Jerry got the Lakers out in front again with 39 points, triggering a 117-104 romp, but pulled a hamstring muscle in the final moments.

Visibly hampered by his injury in game six in Boston, Jerry managed to tally 26 points despite his limited mobility, but the Lakers fell to the Celtics, 99-90.

In the seventh and deciding contest back in Los Angeles, West solidified his selection as the "SPORT Magazine NBA Playoff Award" winner with his best all-round performance. With the Lakers trailing, 100-83, with nine minutes to go, Jerry scored 14 of Los Angeles' next 19 points to bring them to within 103-102, but the Celtics steadied to eke out a 108-106 win and their 11th title in 13 seasons. West wound up with a total of 42 points, 13 rebounds and 12 assists.

Banner Year Racked Up By San Diego Gulls

The San Diego Gulls had a banner year in the record-shattering department as they established an impressive list of new team records during the 1968-69 season.

Among those was a new Western Hockey League record of 62 saves in one game by goalie Jack McCartan and a WHL record-equalling five-goal performance by Len Ronson.

McCartan stopped 62 Denver Spurs' shots on February 19 in Denver to establish a new WHL record for activity by a goalie. Ronson blistered five shots past Seattle goalie Don Head on March 15 to equal the WHL standard for goals in a single game.

On a team basis, the Gulls made a clean sweep — setting new records in goals, assists, scoring points, penalty minutes and points in the standings.

Warren Hynes set a team record with 88 points, and Bob Champoux established a new Gull record with three shutouts during the season.

The Gulls and Portland Buckaroos engaged in a bitter game on January 23 that resulted in several records. There were 79 minutes of penalties in the game, a record for penalty minutes by both teams, and the Gulls set a team mark with 38 penalty minutes.

Willie O'Ree, also, established a record in that game as he accounted for 19 minutes in penalities.

George Gardner set a record for saves by an opponent when he kicked out 47 San Diego shots in a 4-4 tie game on March 9.

Bob Champoux and Rick Charron had a busy night in Phoenix on March 20. Charron made 46 saves and Champoux made 42 at the Gulls won, 6-3. The 88 saves was record, as was the 97 shots on goal.

Fred Hilts set another kind of record in Phoenix on December 19, when he sniped two goals in 18 seconds. Hilts scored at 19:34 and 19:52 of the third period.

Hynes, Ronson and Alex Faulkner all scored a goal in five straight games this season to establish a new record in that department.

Show times are 8:30 p.m. June 6 and 7 and 2 and 7 p.m. June 8.

Rivkin Heads Tourism

Arthur L. Rivkin has been elected president of the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau for a one-year term beginning July 1.

Rivkin, vice president of Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of San Diego, will take over what has become the largest organization of its kind in the United States with 1,430 members who invest in the Bureau's advertising and promotion programs.

PTA's Life Award Given To Husband-Wife Team

The Monte Vista High School's PTA presented to Honorary Life Membership Awards to a husband and wife team for outstanding community work.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Howry who have been known for many years for their combined efforts in working with youth through both the Girl and Boy Scouts, the PTA's at the Chase and Fuerte Elementary schools, Emerald Jr. High, Monte Vista High, and the Foothills PTA Council.

Other school activities included being members of the Music Parent's Clubs, Boosters Club, and on the Music Coordinating Council and the Citizens Advisory Committee for the Grossmont High School District.

In other community work, Howry is a member of the Al Bahr Shrine, Spring Valley Kiwanis Club and Key Club Committee. His wife, Peg, has been an active member of the Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary for 14 years, having held many positions there, and is on their Honor Roll by serving 100 hours per year for 10 years or more.

Mrs. Ralph McJunkins, Honorary Life Awards Chairman, said that their vision of the potential worth of young people and community needs have made this pair exceptionally deserving of this honor.

Nor have they relaxed. Mrs. Howry was recently installed as secretary for the Foothills PTA Council, and Howry was elected as the first male PTA president for Monte Vista High School.

He and the following list of 1969-70 officers were installed by Robert B. Divine, vice principal of the school, at a joint board meeting on May 20.
